Lose yourself at the luxurious Nima Local House Hotel in Mexico City. Situated in the La Roma area, Nima is just steps from all of the best bars and restaurants, making it the perfect place to stay if you want to experience everything that Mexico City has to offer. This unique house, built during the el Porfiriato period in Mexico, was one of the last establishments standing after the 1985 earthquake. Now, the house has turned into an elegant getaway for business and romance excursions alike.

The four chambers of this expertly decorated house each have their own flair, leading you to your own private suite. Their suites feature private bathrooms, king-sized beds, and contemporary amenities. You'll feel right at home in a suite that's more like your bedroom as you open the shuttered balcony doors and peer down upon the hustle and bustle of Mexico City. Step into the lobby for the complimentary morning breakfast and feel as though you've been transported to your own private oasis as you wander along the tiled floors and relax into the plush couches. Enjoy a cocktail at the lounge and take in the views of the city on the rooftop deck. This truly stunning environment serves as the perfect introduction to Mexico City.

When the time comes to wander, Nima Hotel is near everything you want to do. Visitors are steps away from some of the best restaurants in the area. Ask the concierge to make reservations at the amazing Rosetta or Contramar restaurants. Take in the nightlife at the eccentric BangBang nightclub, wander the streets and see the local street art, or take a walking food tour with Tasty Bites.
